
first there is going to be a lobby so they can teleport to the game and there is going to be a maximum people of howmany they want and can have a only friends can join button Now the game its going to start with how to play so people will know its going to be morning with how they strart for 5 mins then they sell food which they have to make for the costumers some of them will look weird so they person has to click a button that kills them and if they kill the wrong person the mechanical animals will in crease at nightand they will have to lock all the windows so no mechanical animal comes in but they will have to complete 1 challenge which is putting the leftover food in the bin outside or if the mechanical animals find th person they will get jump scared and die they have to survive 64 days and get gems to get new speeds or weapons to get quicker at doing it